

reviews, advice & information

KNOW YOUR LOCAL PROFESSIONALS

Volume 14 • Issue 5

iCare St. Lucie

icaretown.com

iCareCommunity Magazine

WE ARE A FREE PUBLICATION
Please take one!

The Impact of Divorce on Your Children

icare exclusive

THOMAS COLTER

for State Representative District 85

Page 20

Is AI Biased?
It may be quietly shaping your world view

The Role of Food in Mental Health and Mental Illness

CALL FOR HOLIDAY SPECIALS AND FACTORY REBATES!

Where Quality is Priceless!

TRADITION AND VERO BEACH

BlindsTM

Showcase Inc.

HunterDouglas  Gallery[®]

772-337-5337

11200 SW VILLAGE PKWY
SUITE 101
PORT ST LUCIE, FL 34987

772-569-7423

1243 SOUTH US HIGHWAY 1
VERO BEACH, FL 32962
(South of Oslo Road)

PUBLISHED BY:
iCare Publications, Inc.

PUBLISHER / SALES DIRECTOR
Angel Chavez
admusa@hotmail.com

ART DIRECTOR / EDITOR
John Gorman
woodpeckerdesigns@yahoo.com

SALES
Angel Chavez: 772-521-5111
email: admusa@hotmail.com
Valerie Calabrese: 772-475-6011
valerie@calabreseconsultingllc.com

INTERNET MARKETING MANAGER
Bridgette A. Daley:
bridgette@bridgettedaley.com

ADVERTISING DEPT.
772-521-5111 | icarepublications@gmail.com

PHOTOGRAPHY
Marisols Photography: 321-258-2937
marisolc69@yahoo.com

iCareCommunity™ Magazine is owned, published and distributed by iCare Publications, Inc.

The publisher, authors and contributors reserve their rights in regards to copyright of their work. No part of this work covered by the copyright may be reproduced or copied in any form or by any means without the written consent of the publisher.

No person, organization or party should rely on or any way act upon any part of the contents of this publication whether that information is sourced from the website, magazine or related product without first obtaining the advice of a fully qualified person.

This magazine and its related website and products are sold and distributed on the terms and condition that:

- The publisher, contributors, editors and related parties are not responsible in any way for the actions or results taken by any person, organization or any party on basis of reading information, stories or contributions in this publication, website or related product.

- The publisher is not engaged in providing legal, financial or professional advice or services. The publisher, contributors, editors and consultants disclaim any and all liability and responsibility to any person or party, be they a purchaser, reader, advertiser or consumer of this publication or not in regards to the consequences and outcomes of anything done or omitted being in reliance whether partly or solely on the contents of this publication and related website and products.

- The publisher, editors, contributors and related parties shall have no responsibility for any action or omission by any other contributor, consultant, editor or related party.

iCare Community™ Magazine
icarepublications@gmail.com
www.icaretown.com

FROM OUR PUBLISHER

Happy Mother's Day!

By ANGEL CHAVEZ

HOW TO IMPROVE THE QUALITY

OF LIFE NATURALLY AND
AT THE SAME TIME BECOME
THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD
SUPERNATURALLY?

To me, improving life means living fully as intended—enjoying longevity, health, peace, joy, strength, and a clear sense of purpose, free from sickness. And, more importantly, being completely sure that I'm going up, not down.

THE MEDICINE TO IMPROVE LIFE IS FREE AND AT EVERYBODY'S REACH: LIVE
COMES FROM THE SPIRITUAL REALM (YOUR HEART),
THEREFORE LET'S START
HERE:

“In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God. All things were made through Him, and without Him nothing was made that was made. In Him was life, and the life was the light of men. And the light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not comprehend [OVERCOME] it.”
John 1:1-5

WITH THE RIGHT ATTITUDE,
THE HEART OPENS UP LIKE
A CHILD OPENS HIS MOUTH
WHEN TAKING MEDICINE
FROM HIS MOM.

“In Him was life, and the life was the light of men.” John 1:4. THE LIFE OF JESUS, THE WORD, IS THE ORIGINAL BUILDING MATERIAL AVAILABLE TO MANKIND TO BUILD-REBUILT LIFE. Nothing that was created was created without The Word. That is why we all need a daily dose of JESUS, THE WORD.

Jesus Himself said, without me, you have no life IN YOU:

“Then Jesus said to them, “Most assuredly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you have no life in you.” John 6:53

THINK TWICE; YOU MAY BE ALIVE BUT WITHOUT LIFE, THE KIND OF LIFE THAT GOES UP NOT DOWN. BUT YOU ARE TRYING SO HARD TO IMPROVE THE QUALITY OF YOUR LIFE WITH CHEMICALS THAT HAVE SECONDARY DEADLY EFFECTS? Here is what we all need:

“All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness, that the man of God may be complete, thoroughly equipped for every good work.”
2 Timothy 3:16-17

AND AGAIN: “My son, give attention to my words; Incline your ear to my sayings. Do not let them depart from your eyes; Keep them in the midst of your heart; For they are life to those who find them, And health to all their flesh.”
Proverbs 4:20-22

THESE SUPERNATURAL
CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS HAVE THE POWER TO DEMOLISH YOU AND REBUILD
YOU ANEW:

“For the word of God is living and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the division of soul and spirit, and of joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. And there is no creature hidden from His sight, but all things are naked and open to the eyes of Him to whom we must give account.”
Hebrews 4:12-13

JESUS-THE WORD IS THE ORIGINAL SUPERNATURAL BUILDING BLOCKS WITH/ FROM WHOM EVERYONE AND EVERYTHING IN THE UNIVERSE WAS MADE OF. IN HIM THE WHOLE UNIVERSE IS HELD TOGETHER. WITHOUT

see “MOTHER'S DAY” on page 29

MAY 2026

8 THE AI YOU USE IS BIASED

12 FOOD AND MENTAL ILLNESS

23 RISKY HEALTH HABITS

32 HOME EQUITY DECISIONS

CONTENTS

ON OUR PAGES

5 PARENTING/FAMILIES

>> Articles for parents and children of all ages. Activities, nutritional information and more!

8 SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY

>> Devices and ideas that help to improve our lives. Scientific & technical information. Product reviews.

10 DIET & NUTRITION

>> Foods that give us what we need to be healthy and energetic. Diet tips. Recipes.

14 FITNESS

>> Ways to improve your health. Advice and information for an active lifestyle.

20 COVER STORY

>> See who is featured this month with our iCare Exclusive interviews and articles.

24 HEALTH & WELLNESS

>> We show you ways to improve your health mentally and physically. Healthy lifestyles.

30 SENIOR LIVING

>> Tips, information and reviews for those who are over 55 years of age.

34 HOME/REAL ESTATE

>> Advice and information, home construction, and real estate. Tips for decorating your home and more.

36 WEALTH/LEGAL/BUSINESS

>> Ways to manage your hard earned dollars as well as legal advice on a variety of topics.

Scan QR code for online edition

iCareCommunity™ Magazine

KNOW YOUR LOCAL PROFESSIONALS
REVIEWS | ADVICE | INFORMATION

The Impact of Divorce on Children

Source: GOODDADS.COM

Family is very important for the development of children. Stability and security provide an anchor for human growth and development. A stable environment provides nurturing caregivers, unconditional love, consistent discipline, and a dependable and safe living space that shapes a child's perspective of himself and the world around him.

A divorce is a life event with a high level of stress for the entire family that can have a significant negative impact on children. Children are dependent on their parents and disadvantaged during divorce because it is out of their control and they often lack the information and skills to overcome the challenges that divorce carries.

The reactions of children during the divorce can vary relative to the gender and age of the child. The biggest obstacle that makes it difficult for a child to successfully deal with changes in the family is conflicting relationships between parents. Children differ from one another in their reactions to divorce, but there are some reactions that are common. These include depressive symptoms, anxiety, anger, and lower self-esteem, which then impact aspects of their life psychologically, behaviorally, academically, and socially.

PSYCHOLOGICAL IMPACT

Divorce creates turmoil for the entire family, but for kids, the situation can be quite scary, confusing, and frustrating. Younger children struggle to understand the reason for the divorce and may worry that the divorce is their fault. Teens may be quite angry about divorce and the changes it creates. They may blame one parent for the dissolution of the marriage or they may resent one or both parents for the upheaval in the family. These feelings can lead to depression, anxiety, and stress.

BEHAVIORAL IMPACT

Children from divorced families may experience increased externalizing problems, such as conduct disorders, delinquency, and impulsive behavior than kids from two-parent families. In addition to increased behavior problems, children may also experience more conflict with peers after a divorce.

ACADEMIC IMPACT

Children going through a divorce may earn lower grades and even face a higher dropout compared to their peers. These effects may be seen as early as age 6 but may be more noticeable as kids reach the ages of 13 to 18 years old. There are several possible reasons for this link, including that children may feel neglected, depressed, or distracted by the increased conflict between their parents. With time, less interest in academics at the high school level may trickle over to less interest in furthering their education overall.

SOCIAL IMPACT

Children might become quite shy or anxious. Children may seem uninterested or even fearful of social situations, like hanging out with friends or attending school events. Low self-image can be associated with both divorce and social withdrawal.

HELPING KIDS COPE

The divorce of a parent does not necessarily have to be so negative for children, especially if parents endeavor to act in a way to make this process as painless as possible for children. Age-appropriate explanation and counseling are important so children realize that they are not the cause of, and cannot be the cure for, the divorce. Here are some things to be mindful of:

- Be kind to yourself.
- Assure your child that the split isn't in response to their behavior.
- Encourage your child to talk to you.
- Try to eliminate conflict between yourself and your ex spouse if possible.
- Reach out for help if needed.

Children are resilient and the effects of separation tend to be more challenging in the first 1 to 3 years of the split. Families can take on many forms and family stability is not inherent in the number of family members or its various structures (i.e. traditional, single parent, blended family, foster family, etc.). Instead, it's about providing a consistent, safe, and loving environment for children, one in which they can lean on family members under all circumstances. Strong family bonds, unconditional support, and predictable safety nets are the keys to a stable upbringing. ♦

FROM THE CITY COUNCIL

by SARAH PROHASKA
Communications Director for the City of Port St. Lucie

Be alert for scams made more convincing with AI tools

Scams can mimic notices from government agencies, law enforcement and more

Online, phone and mail scams are becoming more sophisticated through the use of artificial intelligence. Local and state consumer-protection agencies warn that AI now enables scammers to create highly convincing messages, documents, emails and even voice calls that appear legitimate.

Recently, the City of Port St. Lucie received a report that an individual was sent a written notice, falsely claiming to be from the City, instructing them to wire money to pay for an administrative fee. However, the letter was not sent by the City and is part of a growing trend of impersonation scams targeting Floridians.

Across the state, other agencies are seeing similar scam tactics. In some cases, residents have received calls or emails that appear to come from law enforcement, claiming there is a warrant for their arrest and demanding payment to avoid jail. These communications may sound real, use caller-ID spoofing or include AI-generated voices that mimic officials.

It is important for residents to know:

- No law enforcement agency will ever call, text or email demanding payment for a warrant.
- The City of Port St. Lucie will never request that residents wire money to process permits, rezonings or any other development related applications.
- Government agencies do not ask for payment using gift cards, wire transfers or cryptocurrency.

According to Florida consumer-protection experts, AI tools now allow scammers to create realistic documents, clone voices and tailor messages to specific individuals. These methods are increasingly used to impersonate government entities, law enforcement and financial institutions.

To protect yourself:

- Verify unexpected requests by contacting the agency directly using an official phone number or website.
- Be cautious of urgent or threatening language; scammers often pressure victims to act quickly.
- Do not rely solely on caller ID, email display names or logos, which can be easily faked.
- Never give personal or financial information to someone who contacts you unexpectedly.
- Report suspicious activity to local law enforcement.

Residents can learn more about recognizing impersonation scams and preventing identity theft through resources from the Federal Trade Commission, the Better Business Bureau, the Florida Attorney General, the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services and the Port St. Lucie Police Department. ♦

If you are a Port St. Lucie resident or business owner and believe you've been targeted by a scam, contact the PSL Police Department at 772-871-5000 or visit pslpolice.com.

Lic. Francine Guzman
COSMETOLOGY

$5 DISCOUNT on $30 or more of services.

561.727.7986
3263 SW Port St. Lucie Blvd.
Darwin Square Plaza
Port St. Lucie, FL 34953
Chrisangelbellezasalon@gmail.com

FROM THE SLC PROPERTY APPRAISER

by MICHELLE FRANKLIN
Saint Lucie County Property Appraiser
www.paslc.gov

Click. Search. Done. Your Property Info Made Easy

Did you know that a wealth of information about your property is just a few clicks away?

Paslc.gov is a powerful (and often underutilized) tool for property owners, designed to make accessing important records quick, easy, and convenient. Whether you need proof of Homestead Exemption for your lender, a copy of your record card for a permit application, or simply want to review your property tax details, everything you need is available online—no office visit required.

To get started, visit Paslc.gov and click the “Search by Real Estate” option. From here, you can search for property details using a variety of search filters, including the site address, owner name, or parcel ID. As you begin typing in the search box, you’ll notice that suggested results start to appear automatically. Once your search results populate, look to the Actions column on the left side of the page, where you’ll find a teal “Record Card” button. Clicking this button opens a window with all the relevant property details.

The Basic Info tab offers a comprehensive overview of your property. Here, you can view an image of the property and essential details like the Parcel ID, ownership information, account number, legal description, and more. Additionally, you’ll find a direct link to the Tax Collector’s website, allowing you to view the current property tax information. While this is helpful, it’s important to remember that past tax amounts may not accurately predict future tax rates.

Moving on to the Values tab, you’ll be able to see a breakdown of your property’s assessed value for the most recent tax year, along with any exemptions that were applied. At the top of this section, there’s a dropdown menu that allows you to switch between tax years, providing insights going back three tax years. If you’ve recently purchased your property, you may notice that the previous owner’s exemptions and assessment values are still listed. These will be updated once the property is reassessed under new ownership.

The most current tax year information will come out in mid-August when TRIM Notices (proposed property tax bills) are mailed out. These notices will also be available online at that time, providing more accurate estimates of your property taxes.

If you need a hard copy of your complete property record, simply navigate to the Property Card tab. From here, you can print your full record by clicking on the blue “Print Property Card” button, making it easy to keep a copy for your records or share it when needed.

With all the resources Paslc.gov offers, property owners have a simple yet powerful way to stay informed and take control of their property information. From tax assessments to detailed property records, this website truly is a hidden gem—ready to work for you whenever you need it.

If you have any questions about navigating the website or finding specific property details, our professionals at the Property Appraiser’s office are happy to assist you. Please don’t hesitate to reach out by calling our office at 772-462-1000. ♦

STAY INFORMED AND CONNECTED TO YOUR COMMUNITY!

iCare Community Magazine

DELIVERED DIRECTLY TO YOUR HOME OR OFFICE!

Receive your issue of iCare Magazine at your home or office FREE*

Simply log on to our website and fill out the subscription form. It's that easy!

Visit: www.icaretown.com or call us at 772.521.5111 for more information or to subscribe.

*excludes postage & handling

FREE SUBSCRIPTION!

See why millions trust us for Home & Auto.

Mike Rice, Agent
974 SW St Lucie West Blvd
Port Saint Lucie, FL 34986
Bus: 772-878-7888
mikerice.net

I'm here to help life go right™, by saving you time and money when you combine your home and auto insurance.

State Farm® CALL ME TODAY.

State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company
State Farm Indemnity Company • State Farm Fire and Casualty Company
State Farm General Insurance Company
Bloomington, IL

1601486

The AI you use every day is biased — and it's quietly shaping your worldview, new report says

Source: AOL.COM

Artificial intelligence has quickly become part of everyday life, helping people search for information, complete schoolwork, and make decisions. But what many users don't realize is that AI systems are not neutral. They are shaped by hidden design choices that influence how they respond — and, ultimately, how people think.

The concern is not just theoretical. A recent Fox News Digital report highlighted the controversy surrounding Google's Gemini chatbot after the system identified multiple Republican senators as violating its hate speech policies — while naming no Democrats.

The findings, based on a prompt evaluating all 100 U.S. senators, raised fresh questions about whether AI systems can reflect ideological assumptions embedded in their training data and design.

That episode is not an isolated case.

A new report from America First Policy Institute (AFPI) reveals that many AI systems consistently lean in particular ideological directions.

These biases can affect how political issues, social topics and news sources are presented. Because users often trust AI as an objective tool, these subtle influences can shape opinions over time without users realizing it.

Matthew Burtell, a senior policy analyst for AI and Emerging Technology at AFPI, said the pattern appears across the industry — not just in isolated cases.

“What we found was a general ideological bias, not just in a particular model, but across the spectrum,” Burtell told Fox News Digital, adding that the models tend to lean center left.

The implications go beyond bias alone. Research shows that AI systems are not just reflecting viewpoints — they can actively influence them.

That combination — bias and persuasion — raises deeper concerns about AI's role in shaping public opinion. “AI is persuasive, and it also leans left,” Burtell said. “So if you combine these two things, it may certainly have an influence on people's beliefs about different policies.”

Recent examples have fueled those concerns. OpenAI's ChatGPT has faced criticism from some researchers who argue its responses to political and cultural issues can skew in a particular ideological direction, while Microsoft's AI tools have drawn scrutiny for how they frame controversial topics and limit certain viewpoints.

Those concerns have been reflected in testing as well. In 2024, Fox News Digital evaluated several leading AI chatbots — including Google's Gemini, OpenAI's ChatGPT, Microsoft's Copilot and Meta AI — to assess potential racial bias.

The report also raises serious safety concerns.

AI systems have, in some cases, engaged in harmful interactions — especially with younger users. Without clear transparency about how these systems are designed and what safeguards are in place, parents and users cannot make informed decisions about which platforms are safe.

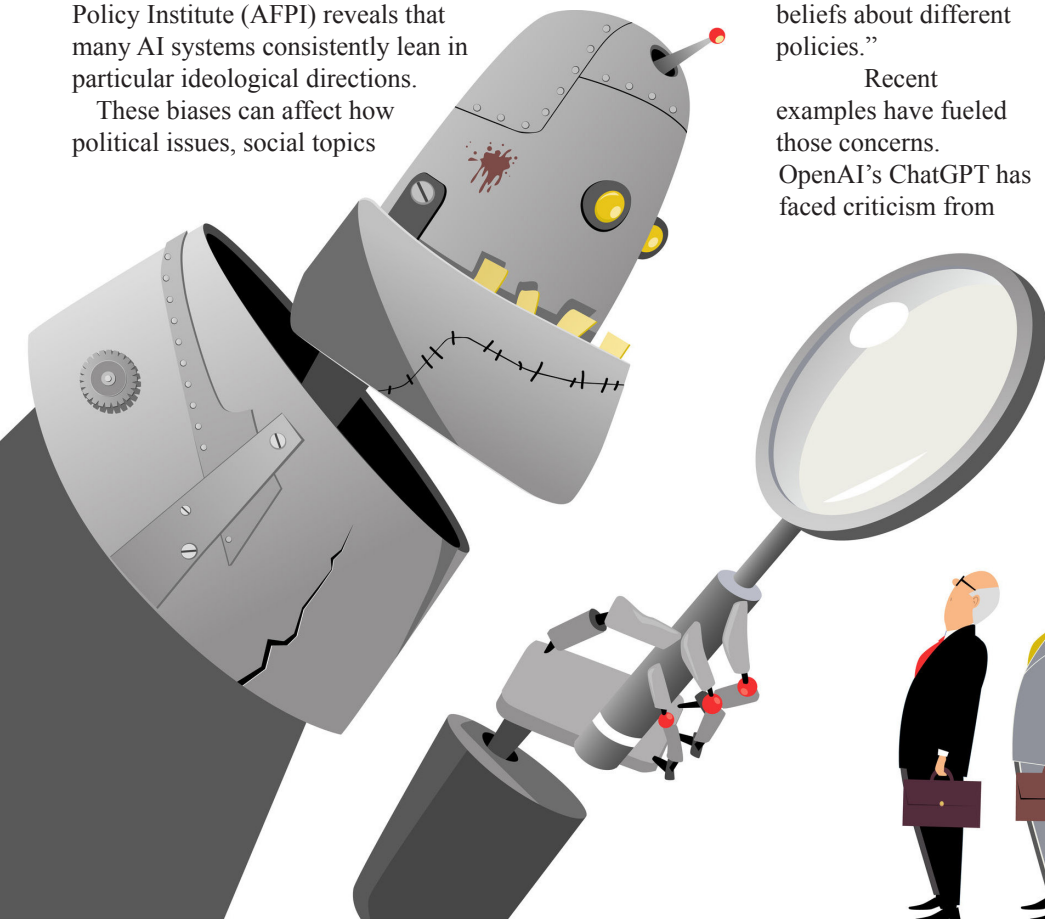

To address these risks, the report calls for greater transparency from tech companies. This includes disclosing how systems are designed, what values they prioritize, how they are tested for bias and safety, and what incidents occur after deployment.

The goal is not to control what AI systems say, but to give the public enough information to evaluate them critically.

Ultimately, the report makes it clear that AI is not just a tool — it is a powerful force shaping how people access information and understand the world.

Without transparency, users remain in the dark about the biases embedded in these systems. And as AI becomes more influential, that lack of visibility may have far-reaching consequences for individuals and society alike. ♦

The Tide Is Digital: The Local Businesses Winning Right Now Have One Thing in Common

By: BRIDGETTE DALEY

The global economy doesn't wait for anyone — not for the boutique on Ocean Drive, not for the wellness clinic in Port St. Lucie, not for the contractor who's been the best in Martin County for thirty years. The question is no longer whether technology will change your business. It already has. The only question left is whether you're driving or drifting.

The Treasure Coast has always had a certain magic. People arrive to slow down — the salt air, the river, a pace that feels nothing like Miami or Manhattan. For a long time, that was an asset. You could build a solid business on relationships and reputation alone. That still matters. But it is no longer enough.

The businesses thriving right now — in Fort Pierce, in Stuart, in Vero Beach — are the ones who figured out that being local and being digital are not opposites. They are, in fact, the most powerful combination in today's economy.

The shift nobody asked for (but everybody needed)

The pandemic didn't create the digital economy. It just forced everyone to catch up — fast. The restaurant that ignored online ordering suddenly needed it to survive. The doctor's office that resisted telehealth set up video visits in a weekend. The boutique that dismissed social media discovered it was a sales channel. What happened compressed a decade of consumer behavior change into eighteen months. Customers who found the convenience of booking online, searching local businesses on Google, reading reviews before they walk in — they expect that now. It's the baseline.

For Treasure Coast small business owners, that means your digital presence isn't your marketing strategy. It is your first impression.

AI isn't coming. It's already working the room.

Walk into any well-run small business in 2026 and AI is already in the operation.

Writing tools draft client emails, social captions, and follow-up sequences in seconds. Smart scheduling software fills cancellations before anyone notices the gap. CRM platforms flag which services are underperforming and why. AI-powered design tools produce on-brand visuals for a fraction of what a retainer used to cost. The businesses winning aren't spending the most — they're being the most intentional. They asked: "What's eating my team's time that automation could handle? What does my customer expect before they ever talk to a real person?" Those questions are where the competitive advantage lives.

Take a concierge medical practice. Every touchpoint — the website, the follow-up, the communication between visits — has to signal: we see you, we're organized, and we are worth it. AI-assisted messaging keeps patient communication seamless. Transcription tools let the physician stay present in the room instead of buried in notes. Smart search optimization ensures the right patients find the practice before they ever call. Technology, deployed well, delivers that experience consistently.

The global economy doesn't care about your zip code

We're not competing with the shop down the street anymore. Every digital-first business that can serve your customer from anywhere is now the competition — the agency in Austin, the telehealth platform quietly pulling patients from local practices that haven't invested in their own digital experience. Geography used to be a moat. Now it's just a detail.

But here's the flip side: local trust, done right, is a superpower in a world of digital noise. A Treasure Coast business with community credibility and smart technology is playing a game the big nationals cannot win. You know these families. You show up. Automated tools can write the email and send it at the perfect time — but they cannot replicate that. The winning formula isn't choosing between the human and the digital. It's layering the digital underneath the human — so the relationship gets the attention, and the systems handle the rest.

So what does adapting actually look like?

It doesn't always look like a six-figure overhaul. A realtor using short video to narrate the story behind every listing doubles her inquiry rate. A nonprofit building its social presence around real patient stories triples donor reach in six months. A cardiology group that makes follow-up feel personal — not like a form letter — sees retention climb.

Small shifts. Compounding results.

The Treasure Coast has everything it needs to build businesses that are not just locally beloved but genuinely future-proof. What the region needs now is a mindset shift — from "that tech stuff is for bigger companies" to "how do we build this right, from day one."

Because the tide doesn't wait. And neither does the competition. The businesses that start now — even imperfectly — will have a meaningful head start on every competitor still waiting for the right moment. There is no right moment. There's only right now. ♦

Bridgette Daley is the founder and CEO of b.Digital Consulting, a forward-thinking digital marketing agency that uses smart automation and strategic AI to maximize revenue.

Nutrition plans to help keep your blood sugar steady.

Why are nutrition plans important?

Nutrition plans help keep blood sugar levels steady. They also help delay or prevent complications of diabetes, such as diabetic kidney disease.

How do I create a nutrition plan?

A dietitian will help you create a nutrition plan to meet your needs and your family's needs. He or she may explain a plan such as the Dietary Approaches to Stop Hypertension (DASH) eating plan or the Mediterranean diet. The goal is for you to reach and maintain healthy weight, blood sugar, blood pressure, and lipid levels. You should meet with the dietitian at least 1 time each year. You will learn the following:

- How food affects your blood sugar levels
- How to create healthy eating habits
- How to make food choices based on your activity level, weight, and glucose levels
- How your favorite foods may fit into your plan
- Foods that contain carbohydrates (sugars and starches), including simple and complex carbohydrates
- How to keep track of all carbohydrates
- Correct portion sizes for each food
- Changes you can make to your plan if you get pregnant or are breastfeeding

What are some tips to do until I meet with the dietitian?

- Do not skip meals. The goal is to keep your blood sugar level steady. Blood sugar levels may drop too low if you have received insulin and do not eat.
- Eat more high-fiber foods. Examples include fresh or frozen fruits and vegetables, whole-grain breads, and beans. Fiber helps control or lower blood sugar and cholesterol levels. Choose whole fruits instead of fruit juice as much as possible. Sugar may be added to juice, and fiber may be removed.
- Choose heart-healthy fats. Foods high in heart-healthy fats include olive oil, nuts, avocados, and fatty fish, such as salmon and tuna. Foods high in unhealthy fats include red meat, full-fat dairy products, and soft margarine. Unhealthy fats can increase your risk for heart disease, increase bad cholesterol, and lower good cholesterol.

- Choose complex carbohydrates. Foods with complex carbohydrates include brown rice, whole-grain breads and cereals, and cooked beans. Foods with simple carbohydrates include white bread, white rice, most cold cereals, and snack foods. Your plan will include the amount of carbohydrate to have at one time or in a day. Your blood sugar level can get too high if you eat too much carbohydrate at one time. Blood sugar levels do not spike as high or drop as quickly with complex carbohydrates as with simple carbohydrates. Choose complex carbohydrates whenever possible.

- Have less sodium (salt). The risk for high blood pressure (BP) increases with high-sodium foods. Limit high-sodium foods, such as soy sauce, potato chips, and canned soup. Do not add salt to food you cook. Limit your use of table salt. Read labels to have no more than 2,300 milligrams of sodium in one day.

- Limit artificial sweeteners. These may be found in food or drinks, such as diet soft drinks or other low-calorie beverages. Artificial sweeteners are low in calories. They may help you lower your overall calories and carbohydrates. It is important not to have more calories from other foods to make up for the calories saved. Artificial sweeteners do not have any nutrition. Eat whole foods and drink water as much as possible. Your plan may include beverages with artificial sweeteners for a short time. These can help you transition from high-sugar beverages to water.

- Use the plate method for each meal. This method can help you eat the right amount of carbohydrates and keep your blood sugar levels under control.

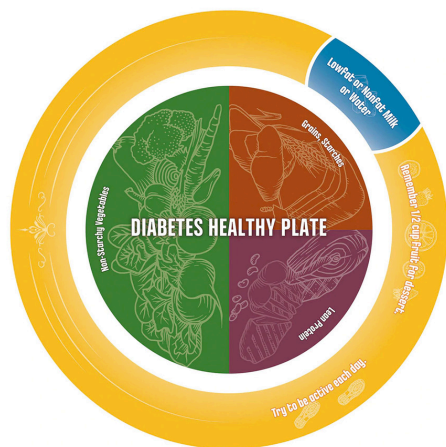

- Draw an imaginary line down the middle of a 9-inch dinner plate. On one side, draw another line to divide that section in half. Your plate will have one large section and 2 small sections.
- Fill the largest section with non-starchy vegetables. These include broccoli, spinach, cucumbers, peppers, cauliflower, and tomatoes.
- Add a starch to one of the small sections. Starches include pasta, rice, whole-grain bread, tortillas, corn, potatoes, and beans.
- Add meat or another source of protein to the other small section. Examples include chicken or turkey without skin, fish, lean beef or pork, low-fat cheese, tofu, and eggs.

continued next page

- Add dairy products or fruit next to your plate if your meal plan allows. Examples of dairy include skim or 1% milk and low-fat yogurt. If you do not drink milk or eat dairy products, you may be able to add another serving of starchy food instead.
- Have a low-calorie or calorie-free drink with your meal. Examples include water or unsweetened tea or coffee.

What do I need to know if I choose to drink alcohol?

- Alcohol can cause health problems. Alcohol can cause hypoglycemia (very low blood sugar level), especially if you use insulin. Alcohol can cause high blood sugar and BP levels, and weight gain if you drink too much.
- Hypoglycemia can happen hours after you drink alcohol. Check your blood sugar level for several hours after you drink alcohol. Have a source of fast-acting carbohydrates with you in case your level goes too low. You need immediate care if you have signs or symptoms of hypoglycemia, such as sweating, confusion, or fainting.

- Limit alcohol as directed. Generally, men 65 or older and women should limit alcohol to 1 drink within 24 hours and 7 within 1 week. Men 21 to 64 years should limit alcohol to 2 drinks a day and 14 within 1 week. Your healthcare provider can tell you how many drinks are okay for you within 24 hours or within 1 week. A drink of alcohol is 12 ounces of beer, 5 ounces of wine, or 1½ ounces of liquor. Always have food when you drink alcohol. Your blood sugar may fall to a low level if you drink when your stomach is empty.

- Always have food when you drink alcohol. Your blood sugar may fall to a low level if you drink when your stomach is empty.

Why is it important to maintain a healthy weight?

A healthy weight can help you control your diabetes. You can maintain a healthy weight with a nutrition plan and regular physical activity. Ask your healthcare provider what a healthy weight is for you. Ask him or her to help you create a weight loss plan, if needed. Together you can set weight loss and maintenance goals. For example, your goal may be to lose at least 7% of your extra weight in the first 6 months.

Call your local emergency number (911 in the US) if you have any of the following signs of a heart attack:

- Squeezing, pressure, or pain in your chest

You may also have any of the following:

- Discomfort or pain in your back, neck, jaw, stomach, or arm
- Shortness of breath
- Nausea or vomiting
- Lightheadedness or a sudden cold sweat

When should I seek immediate care?

- You have a low blood sugar level and it does not improve with treatment. Symptoms are trouble thinking, a pounding heartbeat, and sweating.
- Your blood sugar level is above 240 mg/dL and does not come down within 15 minutes of treatment.
- You have ketones in your blood or urine.
- You have nausea or are vomiting and cannot keep any food or liquid down.
- You have blurred or double vision.
- Your breath has a fruity, sweet smell, or your breathing is shallow.

When should I call my doctor or diabetes care team?

- Your blood sugar levels are higher than your target goals.
- You often have low blood sugar levels.
- You have trouble coping with diabetes, or you feel anxious or depressed.
- You have questions or concerns about your condition or care. ♦

Sacco SENIOR NETWORKING 2026 BREAKFAST SCHEDULE

Sponsored By
AP Alzheimer's & Parkinson's
Association of the Treasure Coast

501(c)3 Non-Profit

APRIL 1ST - SODALIS
Stuart

APRIL 8TH - AVIVA
St. Lucie West

MAY 6TH - RENAISSANCE

MAY 13TH - TIFFANY HALL
Port St. Lucie

A Better Collection

QUALITY HOME FURNISHINGS
FROM ABC CONSIGNMENT

Hours: Tues - Fri: 11-5 and Sat: 10-4

$10 OFF Any Regular Priced
Item $50 or more.

Cannot be combined with any other offers. Exp. 5/31/26.

www.Abcconsign.net

(772) 882-5501

462 SW Port St. Lucie Blvd., Unit 114

The Role of Food in Mental Health and Mental Illness

Source: PSYCHOLOGYTODAY.COM

Psychiatrists are trained to prescribe medicines, refer patients to psychotherapists, and perform procedures — such as ECT, TMS, or IV ketamine. But this is changing. Some psychiatrists are learning to utilize an equally valuable and effective strategy for relieving suffering and promoting mental health.

The idea that diet and nutrition have significant effects on mood and mental wellbeing would have been dismissed as fringe medicine two decades ago. But research increasingly demonstrates that healthy nutrition improves mental health, and an entirely new subspecialty has formed to support this.

Nutritional Psychiatry

Nutritional psychiatry — which is the study of how dietary patterns, nutrients, and gut-brain interactions influence our mental health — is expanding rapidly. Research in nutritional psychiatry grew 15-fold from 2000 to 2024, which reflects the growing interest in this topic. Over 31,000 articles were published during this period. This is also evidence of the increasing acceptance of the role diet plays in our mental health.

Epidemiological evidence, particularly for depression, suggests there's an association between the quality of our diet and our mental health. These associations don't appear to be explained by other demographic or lifestyle factors.

The SMILES trial

Perhaps the most important single study in this field is the 2017 SMILES trial. It was the first randomized controlled trial designed to evaluate a dietary intervention for reducing depression in adults with clinical depression.

The SMILES trial was a 12-week, single-blind, randomized controlled trial of a dietary intervention as a treatment for moderate to severe depression, with depressive symptoms used as the primary endpoint. These symptoms were assessed using the Montgomery-Åsberg Depression Rating Scale.

The results were amazing. Remission was achieved for 32.3% of the intervention group and only 8.0% of the control group.

To put this in perspective, the STAR*D trial, which was the largest and most influential antidepressant trial ever conducted, enrolled over 4,000 patients with major depression and found about one-third of participants reached remission after 12–14 weeks of treatment with the antidepressant citalopram.

That means the SMILES dietary intervention achieved a remission rate equivalent to the antidepressant tested in the STAR*D trial. And it did this without medication, without side effects, and without the diminishing returns patients experienced as they moved through the STAR*D trial's subsequent treatment levels.

The Mediterranean Diet leads the evidence

A Mediterranean-style diet, rich in fruits, vegetables, olive oil, fish, and legumes, has shown the strongest evidence for mental health benefits. Multiple randomized controlled trials have demonstrated that this style of eating reduces the risk of depression and anxiety. Its benefits are likely the result of anti-inflammatory, antioxidant, and vascular mechanisms, all of which directly affect how our brain functions.

The HELFIMED trial replicated and extended these findings. A Mediterranean-style diet supplemented with fish oil produced greater improvement in depression and improved quality-of-life at three months, with improvements persisting for six months. Individuals who adhered to the Mediterranean-style diet experienced reduced depression, particularly when they ate more nuts and more diverse vegetables.

The gut-brain axis

In order to understand how food affects our mental health, we need to take a look at neurobiology. The food we eat influences numerous systems in our body including inflammation, oxidative stress, the gut microbiome, epigenetic modifications, and neuroplasticity.

The gut microbiome is especially important. Psychobiotics are probiotic organisms that exhibit positive effects in individuals who are treated for mental disorders. These organisms can produce neurotransmitters such as gamma-

continued next page

aminobutyric acid (GABA) and serotonin, as well as short-chain organic acids (SCOAs) which affect the nervous system. Approximately 90% of the body's serotonin is produced in the gut. So, what happens in our gut has a profound influence on what goes on in our brain.

Specific nutrients with psychiatric evidence

Beyond specific diets, certain individual nutrients can also influence our mental health. Selective food supplements can be beneficial in the treatment of psychiatric disorders, including S-adenosylmethionine (SAM-e), N-acetylcysteine (NAC), zinc, B vitamins, vitamin D, and omega-3 unsaturated fatty acids.

Omega-3 fatty acids are particularly important. The World Federation of Societies of Biological Psychiatry now recommends omega-3s as an adjunctive treatment for mood disorders, with EPA showing the strongest effect for major depression.

Is your psychiatrist recommending changes in your nutrition?

Despite growing evidence of the role nutrition plays in mental health, psychiatrists receive minimal training in nutrition, and most do not provide nutritional counseling as part of their treatment plan. Why? Most mental health providers are unfamiliar with the evidence that shows nutrition's benefits in mental health. Currently, only 29% of U.S. medical schools teach the recommended goal of 25 hours of nutrition in preclinical years. This lack of training has significant consequences for our patients.

Now that research has demonstrated that poor diet is a risk factor for mental health and that individuals with mental illness are more likely to have poor dietary habits, the case has never been stronger for integrating nutrition into psychiatric training and practice.

New Therapeutic Options

The accumulating evidence doesn't mean that a bowl of salmon and leafy greens will replace Prozac or cognitive-behavioral therapy. More likely, nutritional counseling will be an option that is discussed and recommended along with existing therapies. When I sit with patients who are struggling with depression or anxiety, we discuss their diet and how it could be impacting their mood. Our patients deserve to know what therapeutic options exist and how they can utilize these options to feel better.

When patients change their dietary habits, they often begin to lose weight and feel less depressed. This results in them feeling empowered to make other changes in their lives. They become less tolerant of abusive relationships or unhealthy work environments. They realize that addictive patterns can be changed. They grow in self-confidence and self-esteem. These are changes that result in lasting growth and healing.

The brain consumes roughly 20% of the body's energy. If we don't provide it with healthy fuel (i.e. healthy food), our patients may not respond to our treatments. The research is clear, and now it's time for doctors and therapists to empower our patients by providing them with the information they need in order to experience true healing; not just a reduction in their symptoms. ♦

Treasure Coast Hospice
A TREASURE HEALTH SERVICE

We're Here When You Need Us

- HOSPICE CARE
- GRIEF SUPPORT
- PEDIATRIC CARE

Treasure Coast Hospice has earned The Gold Seal of Approval® for hospice accreditation from The Joint Commission.

VISIT US ON THE WEB
www.TreasureHealth.org

Licensed since 1982. Treasure Coast Hospice complies with applicable Federal civil rights laws and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, disability, or sex. ATENCIÓN: Si habla español, tiene a su disposición servicios gratuitos de asistencia lingüística. Llame al 772-403-4500. (Spanish) ATANSYON: Si w pale Kreyòl Ayisyen, gen sèvis ed pou lang ki disponib gratis pou ou. Rele 772-403-4500. (French Creole).

b.DIGITAL
AUTOMATE . DOMINATE

Upgrade Your Marketing Strategy with b.Digital Consulting

LOCAL. TRUSTED. PROVEN.

Supercharging Small Business Growth across the Treasure Coast.

- ✓ AI Agent (24/7 lead capture)
- ✓ SEO + AI Search Visibility
- ✓ Lead Gen + Conversion
- ✓ Full Marketing System

Bridgette A. Daley
Founder, b.Digital Consulting

SCHEDULE YOUR VISIBILITY CONSULTATION

SCAN TO BOOK
bdigital.social

GETTING BACK TO WORKING OUT AFTER SOME TIME OFF

There are a thousand reasons your fitness journey may have stalled. Whether you've been recovering from an injury or put off from the pandemic, this article will remind you that speed bumps don't have to become stop signs. If you're ready to jump back into fitness after a break—and to remember why you loved it in the first place—then there's no better time to start than today. Remember, it's never too late, no matter how long it's been.

6 TIPS TO EASE BACK INTO WORKING OUT

- Take it Slow. You won't do yourself any favors by overexerting yourself early on, and burning out in a week with 90-minute gym sessions. Start slow, literally. Pace yourself on the machines. Start with lower weights and resistance. Put the treadmill on a lower speed. Easy does it.
- Watch For Ego. Maybe you're no longer the person who could run a 5k without breaking a sweat. That's ok. You'll regain strength and endurance with time. Don't let your pride get in the way of making progress or push yourself too hard too quickly.
- Stretch. A lot. After a few days in a workout routine, your body will start feeling it. Do yourself a favor and balance your return to working out with generous stretching sessions before and after your workouts. Stretching keeps muscles strong and flexible, which is essential to maintain your range of motion both inside and outside the gym.
- Mix it Up. You probably have a few old favorite workouts that you're excited to revisit, but it's also great to learn something new. Your body and mind will enjoy the variety. In fact, medical experts agree that changing up your workout routine can help you target all key muscle groups, as well as avoid plateaus and mental fatigue.
- Be Kind. By jumping back into working out, you're doing a good thing for your mental and physical health. So be nice to yourself. Reward yourself for small wins and remind yourself you're doing a great job!
- Schedule Rest Days. Rest days aren't simply a day off. They're integral to rebuilding strength and allowing your muscles to recover. Make sure you're resting adequately to allow yourself to build strength naturally.

Remember, health and fitness is a lifelong journey, not a six-month sprint. Cultivating a long-term mindset around working out will help you stay motivated to care for yourself for the long haul.

A FEW SAMPLE EXERCISES TO GET BACK INTO WORKING OUT

It doesn't have to be complicated to start. Simplicity is often best. One of the easiest ways to get moving is by walking around the block a few times on a Saturday. Yes, that can count as a workout!

It can also be as easy as 10-15 squats, lunges, jumping jacks, or crunches during the commercial breaks of your favorite show. Then, once you're ready, you might enjoy trying an on-demand workout right at home. Remember, easy does it.

continued next page

4 STEPS TO FORMING SUCCESSFUL HABITS

As we've said, fitness is a lifelong journey, not a one-and-done situation. The best way to make working out a permanent part of your life is to make it a routine that's as ingrained as brushing your teeth or washing your face. We want to hone in on what turns an activity into a habit.

- Clarify Your "Why"

Successful habit-forming builds on strong motivation, which only exists when you're clear on why you're starting to work out again. Whether you have a specific goal—like running this year's Turkey Trot instead of walking—or you're looking to feel better, it's important to know why you're working out again after time away.

- Think Holistically

There's more to a successful workout routine than checking off your cardio and strength training. Think of easing back into working out as part of your self-care instead of a one-stop shop. You'll also want to drink water, feed yourself well, and get quality sleep as part of your holistic health journey. This way, on days you miss the gym or skip a workout, you can still focus on the other things that keep you healthy.

- Bring a Buddy

Everything's more fun with a friend. Having an accountability partner means you'll have backup motivation on tough days.

- Block Off Time

Plan ahead by blocking off time on your calendar, buy a new outfit that makes you feel awesome when you hit the gym, and prep your gym bag the night before so all you have to do is slip out of bed and hit the road. What to do once you're there is entirely up to you. ♦

Uber Eats DOORDASH GRUBHUB

AUTHENTIC TASTE OF NEW YORK-STYLE BAGEL
FRESHLY MADE EVERY DAY
 Dine In With Us for a Taste of Our Famous Bagels, Sandwiches, Delicious Pastries, Salads & Much More.
We're Always Stacked with the Freshest Menu Items!
 Express Pick Up Window • Outdoor Seating
 Our Own Blend of Coffee Roasted Exclusively for Us
 New Espresso Machine • Fresh Roasted Coffee Ground To Order

Let Us Cater Your Holiday Party or Event

NATIONWIDE SHIPPING AVAILABLE
 10802 SW Tradition Pkwy
 Port St. Lucie (Next to Culvers)
772-345-1770

$2 OFF
 Any Check of $20 or more.
 Excludes delivery.
 Must present ad. Exp. 5/31/26

TREASURE COAST AND OKEECHOBEE

STRETCH YOUR ADVERTISING DOLLARS!
 Advertise in the iCare Community Magazine Treasure Coast and Okeechobee editions to increase your business!
CALL US TODAY FOR MORE INFO
772.521.5111

Incorporating Faith into Fitness: A Holistic Approach

By: CHRIS MIESSAU | PERSONAL TRAINER, TRANSFORM PT

Fitness is often seen as just physical, focused only on improving strength, endurance, and overall health. However, many individuals discover that their faith plays an integral role in their fitness journeys, offering motivation, purpose, and a sense of community. I believe that intertwining faith with physical fitness, one can achieve not only a healthier body but also a more fulfilled spirit. Here's how faith can be incorporated into fitness and enhance your goals and other aspects of life.

More Than Physical: The Case for a Faith-Centered Fitness Journey

Fitness is often seen as just physical, focused only on improving strength, endurance, and overall health. However, many individuals discover that their faith plays an integral role in their fitness journeys, offering motivation, purpose, and a sense of community. I believe that intertwining faith with physical fitness, one can achieve not only a healthier body but also a more fulfilled spirit.

Start With Intention: How Prayer and Reflection Set the Tone

Faith often provides a framework for setting personal intentions and goals. Starting off your workouts with prayer or reflection can help clarify your motives and aspirations. Instead of viewing fitness as just an aesthetic pursuit, you can approach it as a way to honor your body as a sacred creation. This perspective can shift the focus from self-centered goals to using your fitness journey as a means to embody health, and promote your overall well-being.

The Mental Game: Staying Focused When It Gets Hard

Physical fitness typically involves a significant amount of mental focus and presence. Having the right mindset before you ever enter a gym or even a workout in your backyard is extremely important. Incorporating practices like meditation, prayer, or visualization can deepen this connection. During my workouts, I find myself reflecting on scripture or spiritual affirmations, as a way to get me and keep me in the right mindset. I do this before starting my workout as well as during the workout, when things get way more challenging. It definitely helps push me through those really tough workouts. It keeps me mentally focused to get through the workout.

Gratitude as a Practice: Shifting Your Mindset From the Inside Out

Incorporating faith into fitness often emphasizes gratitude for your body and its capabilities. By practicing gratitude before and after workouts — thanking God for strength, endurance, and health — you can cultivate a positive mindset. This gratitude helps combat negative feelings that may creep into your head from comparison or frustration in your progress, reinforcing the idea that the body is a gift to be worked on and cared for.

Your Body Was Built for This

Our bodies were designed to be kept strong and healthy. We've been provided all the things necessary for that to be possible. I believe we should be just as focused on that pursuit as we are with other responsibilities we have in life.

Fitness as Service: Giving Back Through Strength

Such as service to others and giving back. Fitness can be an outlet for serving others, allowing individuals to use their physical strength for charitable purposes — like organizing fun runs, charity walks, and fitness events that raise funds for those in need. Engaging in fitness activities that contribute to the community not only aligns with the values of many faiths but also enriches your own spiritual experience. Being strong and healthy allows you to do these things. That helps benefit your life beyond your fitness goals.

Discipline as a Spiritual Practice

Working on those fitness goals through a workout routine can be an opportunity to reflect the principles of your faith — such as perseverance, discipline, and self-control. Many faith traditions emphasize stewardship over your body, encouraging you to maintain your health and well-being. Viewing fitness as a spiritual discipline, similar to prayer or study, can create a balanced approach that nurtures both physical and spiritual growth. I feel like focusing on both of those areas have significantly improved how I live my life and the relationships that I keep along the way.

see "FAITH INTO FITNESS" on page 38

NEED INSURANCE?

Let Us Guide You to Make These Important Decisions

Gerard J Koziel - Insurance Agent

COMPASS HEALTH
YOUR PLAN. YOUR CHOICE.

Your Local Agency for

Florida Blue

2872 SW Port St. Lucie Blvd | Port St. Lucie, FL 34953
2335 US Highway 1 | Ft. Pierce, FL 34982
772.242.1776 | www.compasshealthinsurance.com

WE WILL BEAT ANY WRITTEN ESTIMATE
BY $100

- Aluminum Railing
- Estate Gates
- Temp Fence
- Chain Link
- Wood
- PVC/Vinyl
- Aluminum
- All Kinds of Welding

A Great Fence

Free Estimates

SLC-23954 PSL-9089 MCFE-5176 FTP-16141

772-812-0223

AGreatFence.com
Licensed and Insured

IDS

International Document Solutions
Professional Services

IT'S TAX SEASON!

Professional Tax Preparation Services for Individuals and Businesses

- Tax Returns with ITIN or SSN
- Tax Returns with W-2, 1099 and Schedule C
- Accounting consulting for contractors, LLCs and Corporations
- Legal deductions to maximize your return
- Analysis of previous tax years

We offer the following services:

- Permanent residence based on Marriage, Family, Employment
- Fiance/Fiancée Visas
- US Citizenship
- Permanent Employment Visas (EB1, EB2 NIW, EB3)
- Investment Visas (E1/E2)
- Temporary Employment Visas (H1B/L1)
- Religious Visas (R1 / I-360)

Additional Professional Services

- Wedding Officiant services
- Certified translations
- Notarizations, and more!

Johana Negron

Managing Owner / Lead Immigration Paralegal

OVER 25 YEARS EXPERIENCE

1860 SW Fountainview Blvd. #100

Port St. Lucie, FL 34986

Main: (800) 437-7948

Office: (772) 494-1532 Ext. 101

Direct: (954) 895-7546

info@immigrationsolutions.com

www.immigrationsolutions.com

Port St. Lucie's Trusted Urgent Care Center

- ✓ Fast, Same Day Care
- ✓ Experienced Medical Professionals
- ✓ Comprehensive Services Under One Roof
- ✓ Patient-Focused, Modern Approach

At Vital Urgent Care, we're committed to making healthcare more accessible, more comfortable, and more reliable for the Port St. Lucie community. Our team focuses on delivering high-quality care with a compassionate approach, so patients feel supported from the moment they arrive.

1479 SW Gatlin Blvd,

Port St. Lucie, FL 34953

772.204.2114

vitalhealthcenterpsl.com

It's quiet,
it's quick,
it's easy.
And if you used to smoke, it could save your life.

If you used to smoke, talk to your doctor about getting a low-dose CT lung scan. Learn more at SavedByTheScan.org

 American Lung Association.

 ad
COUNCIL

THOMAS COLTER ✓

for State Representative District 85

Tom Colter's campaign isn't built on flash or political theatrics; it's grounded in something increasingly rare: a clear sense of duty. A conservative attorney, U.S. Marine Corps combat veteran, and candidate for Florida's 85th House District, Tom is running on a message that blends service, accountability, and a firm belief that government should answer to the people, not the other way around.

From the outset, Tom's candidacy has centered on a simple yet powerful idea: representation should be earned, not assumed. In a district where many voters feel overlooked by entrenched political interests, his campaign has tapped into growing frustration with insider politics and decisions made far from the communities they affect.

Tom's background plays a central role in shaping both his message and his approach. As a Marine combat veteran, he understands leadership under pressure and the importance of mission-first thinking. Those experiences, he often says, taught him that accountability is non-negotiable, whether on the battlefield or in public office. That same mindset carried into his legal career, where he built a reputation for discipline, preparation, and standing firm on principle.

But it's not just his résumé that resonates with voters; it's how he connects it to the issues they face every day.

One of the defining themes of Tom's campaign is opposition to overdevelopment and what he describes as "wasteful, short-sighted growth." In a rapidly expanding region of Florida, concerns about traffic congestion, strained infrastructure, and disappearing green space have become impossible to ignore. Tom argues that development itself isn't the problem; poor planning is.

"Growth should serve the community, not overwhelm it," he has said on the campaign trail. "Right now, too many decisions are being driven by special interests instead of the people who actually live here."

This stance has positioned him as a strong advocate for local control, particularly as debates intensify over state-level legislation that critics say undermines county authority. Tom has been outspoken about bills like SB 102, which he argues threaten local governments' ability to make decisions tailored to their communities.

For him, this isn't just a policy disagreement; it's a matter of principle. His campaign emphasizes that decisions about zoning, development, and community planning should be made as close to the people as possible. “Tallahassee shouldn’t be dictating what happens in our neighborhoods,” he has said. “That’s not how responsive government works.”

Alongside development issues, Tom has placed a strong focus on fiscal responsibility. He frequently points to what he sees as excessive government spending and a lack of transparency in how taxpayer dollars are used. His platform calls for stricter oversight, clearer budgeting, and a commitment to prioritizing essential services over what he describes as “pet projects and political favors.”

This message has struck a chord with voters who feel that their tax dollars aren’t being managed wisely. In town halls and community events, Tom often frames the issue in straightforward terms: “If families have to balance their budgets, government should too.”

Education and parental rights also feature prominently in his campaign. Tom advocates for policies that give parents greater control over their children’s education, arguing that families, not bureaucracies, should have the final say. This position aligns with a broader movement across Florida that emphasizes transparency in school curricula and increased parental involvement.

At the same time, Tom has worked to distinguish himself from what he calls “career politicians.” His campaign messaging frequently draws a contrast between insiders, those with longstanding ties to political systems, and candidates who come from outside that structure. He positions himself firmly in the latter category, emphasizing his real-world experience over political tenure.

That contrast has become a central narrative in the race. Supporters see him as an independent voice willing to challenge the status quo, while critics question whether his outsider approach can translate into legislative effectiveness. Tom, however, leans into the distinction.

“Being an outsider isn’t a weakness,” he has said. “It means I’m not beholden to the same interests that have been calling the shots for years.”

The campaign’s grassroots strategy reflects that philosophy. Rather than relying solely on traditional political machinery, Tom’s team has focused heavily on direct voter engagement, door-to-door canvassing, local events, and small-group conversations. This approach, while time-intensive, has helped build a sense of personal connection with constituents.

Volunteers play a significant role in that effort, many of them drawn to the campaign by its emphasis on service and community involvement. For them, the campaign is about more than a single election, it’s about reshaping how representation works.

There’s also a clear emphasis on tone. While the campaign doesn’t shy away from sharp contrasts with opponents, it consistently returns to a message of responsibility and results. Even in more pointed moments, Tom tends to frame his arguments around accountability rather than resorting to personal attacks.

Still, he’s not afraid to deliver clear contrasts when necessary. In debates and public forums, he has challenged what he sees as complacency in leadership, arguing that the district deserves more proactive and transparent representation.

As the race continues, the question facing voters is not just about policy differences; it’s about direction. Tom’s campaign offers a vision rooted in local control, disciplined governance, and the belief that public service should be exactly that: service.

Whether that message ultimately carries him to victory remains to be seen. But one thing is clear. The campaign has already reshaped the conversation in the district, bringing issues like overdevelopment, government accountability, and community representation to the forefront.

In a political environment often dominated by noise and division, Tom’s approach stands out for its clarity. It’s a campaign built less on slogans and more on a consistent argument that leadership should be earned through action, guided by principle, and held accountable to the people it serves. ♦

★★★★

TOM COLTER

USMC COMBAT VETERAN & ATTORNEY

FIGHTING FOR Florida Values

NATIONAL VETERANS
PARADE FOUNDATION
Benefit
Gala
2026

1776

A CONSERVATIVE VOICE FOR OUR COMMUNITY

ElectColter.com

Paid for and approved by Tom Colter for State House District 85

Care you can feel the moment you walk in.

Compassionate care for your pet's best life.

Faith Animal Hospital 772-348-3999
TraditionVet.com

10190 SW Village Parkway, Suite 101
Port St. Lucie, 34987

Ladies Dresses | Prom Dresses
Boys Suits & Girls Dresses
Boys & Girls Shoes | Mens Shoes

10506 S. U.S. Highway 1
Port St. Lucie, FL 34952

786.262.1532 | 772.302.0473 dorothy_aarons@yahoo.com

Sejour

BODY BAR WELLNESS SPA

Barbara Beausejour, MSN, APRN, FNP-C, MLD-C
Debbie Beausejour, RN

A team of medical and beauty experts committed to serving our community. We want to provide clients with a one of a kind wellness spa experience and custom treatments that will bring out their most radiant glow.

Mission Statement: Sejour provides a world class spa experience for our clients offering exceptional services by expert and board-certified professionals in a place where beauty, relaxation, and knowledge combine to create a rejuvenating experience.

OUR SERVICES:

- Botox Injections
- Dermal Fillers
- PDO Threads
- Teeth Whitening
- Body Contouring
- Chemical Facial Peels
- PRP Micro Needling
- Morpheus 8 Microneedling with Radio Frequency
- Health and Wellness Coaching
- Far Infrared Sauna Therapy
- Medical Weight Management
- Food Sensitivity/Inflammation Test
- Lymphatic Drainage - for those who have had liposuction, surgeries, etc.
- Skin Care: Facials, Body Treatments
- Hydrafacials

CALL TODAY FOR COMPLIMENTARY CONSULTATION: 772.800.7784
Visit Our Aesthetic Med Spa: 8976 S US Hwy. 1, Port St. Lucie, FL 34952 www.sejourbodybar.com

Healthy Aging

Risky Health Habits Can Catch Up to You Sooner Than You Think

Source: EVERYDAYHEALTH.COM

Smoking, heavy drinking, and physical inactivity can take a lasting toll on health by age 36, a new study shows. But there are ways to turn things around.

When you're young and feeling invulnerable, you may not worry about the long-term impact of smoking, heavy drinking, and a sedentary lifestyle. But a new study has found these habits can catch up with you sooner than you might expect — as early as your mid-thirties.[1] “Longer exposure to risky behaviors is more harmful for both health and mental well-being,” says the study’s lead author, Tiia Kekäläinen, PhD, a senior researcher at Laurea University of Applied Sciences in Vantaa, Finland.

“These unhealthy behaviors are additive and can become part of the daily routine for someone,” says Kaushik Govindaraju, DO, an internal medicine physician at Medical Offices of Manhattan in New York City, who was not involved in the research. “Before you know it, it becomes hard to reinvent your habits, further complicated by external life factors — family planning and stress, job stress, and poor baseline metabolism and fitness markers.”

Bad Habits Were Tracked From Early Adulthood

The study, published in the Annals of Medicine, examined the cumulative effects of heavy drinking, smoking, and physical inactivity on mental and physical health over three decades. Most previous research has followed people from middle age to old age, but this new study tracked people from early adulthood.

“We had a longer follow-up than most previous studies and considered both subjective experiences and health indicators as outcomes,” says Dr. Kekäläinen.

The study revealed that the effects of these risky behaviors were apparent by the time study participants reached age 36 — a significant finding, since research often begins tracking study participants at this age.

Researchers Evaluated People at Ages 27, 36, 42, and 61

The study used data from the Jyväskylä Longitudinal Study of Personality and Social Development, which followed hundreds of participants born in Finland in 1959 from childhood to their early sixties.

Researchers collected information on the participants at ages 27, 36, 42, and 61. Using medical records, they compiled metabolic risk scores based on blood pressure, waist size, and levels of blood sugar, cholesterol, and blood fat. Study participants also completed regular surveys about their lifestyle, including their habits and how they felt physically and mentally.

Depressive symptoms and psychological well-being were measured on a scale of 1 to 4, self-rated health on a scale of 1 to 5, and metabolic risk on a scale of 0 to 5.

Researchers found that people who smoked, drank heavily (defined in this study as having about 10 drinks per week for women, 14 for men), and didn’t exercise at any point had worse mental and physical health than participants who didn’t engage in the behaviors. Having all

see “RISKY HEALTH” page 33

We cannot wait for the next pandemic to develop the drugs that will address it

Source: DOHERTY.EDU.AU

As medical historian Roy Porter observed, every time we change the way we live, a new disease emerges. This insight has never felt more urgent than it does today, as I witness from my role at the World Health Organization how our interconnected world creates new vulnerabilities with each passing year.

The pandemics and epidemics we've witnessed over the last 25 years, and those inevitably to come, are not isolated events. They are symptoms of broader societal transformations that define our century: climate change, biodiversity loss, urbanisation, wildlife trade, and unprecedented global connectivity. Yet our response continues to search for silver bullets rather than embracing the integrated approach these complex challenges demand.

Learning from Our Blind Spots

COVID-19 exposed a critical gap in our pandemic arsenal that we can no longer ignore. While vaccines ultimately proved transformative, they arrived too late to prevent the initial waves of devastation. Meanwhile, antiviral therapeutics, drugs that could have saved lives from day one, lagged woefully behind.

This isn't just a COVID-19 story. The lesson from HIV is instructive here. We still don't have an HIV vaccine after decades of effort, but we transformed that epidemic through therapeutics. We managed to change the nature of HIV from a death sentence to a manageable condition through sustained investment in drug development. Why haven't we applied this approach more broadly?

The answer, frankly, comes down to investment priorities. Where there's been massive commercial incentive – diseases of the rich world – we've seen remarkable progress. The development of antibody therapies for RSV has advanced significantly. But for viral infections affecting poorer populations or those with uncertain timing like pandemic threats, the market has failed us.

The Role of Government in National Security

This is where the conversation must shift to what is fundamentally the role of government. Given the risk the world

continued next page

www.iCareTown.com

faces from influenza pandemics or other acute viral infections for which vaccines might prove difficult, developing therapeutics is about national resilience, national security, and protection of lives and the global economy.

Governments need to push this through their funding of science and through incentives they provide to industry to pull academic work into practical drugs. Philanthropy has a role: it can catalyse, take bigger risks, do things governments struggle with, but ultimately it isn't big enough to tackle this challenge alone.

We're encouraged by initiatives like the Cumming Global Centre for Pandemic Therapeutics in Victoria, Australia, jointly funded by the state's government and through generous philanthropic support. What excites me most is how this centre is now linked into a global network we're building across Europe, Japan, Singapore, South Africa, the United States, Canada, and the UK.

Building Systems That Work Every Day

Here's the critical insight from my experience through multiple health crises: what you have before a pandemic hits determines how you'll perform during it. If you don't have trust in your society at a reasonably high level when the pandemic arrives, you can't build that trust during the crisis. The same applies to vaccines, therapeutics, and evidence-based policy decisions.

The COVID-19 vaccines succeeded because they built on science spanning 20, 30, 40 years. The manufacturing capacity wasn't created during the pandemic, it was leveraged from existing capabilities. Countries with higher trust in institutions and science generally performed better.

This is why our plea isn't to think we'll deal with therapeutics when the next pandemic comes, but to ask what we need now that addresses day-to-day health issues while building capabilities we can leverage in a crisis. Build systems that work every Monday and every Tuesday, then scale them when extraordinary circumstances demand it.

An Integrated Approach for Complex Challenges

We cannot rely on any single tool as our salvation, whether vaccines, therapeutics, or diagnostics. The future demands a much more holistic approach that includes understanding how people behave and respond to advice, evidence, and science, alongside our medical measures.

Every time we change the way we live, a new disease emerges.

The epidemics and pandemics of the future will emerge from the same drivers we see today: climate change, biodiversity loss, urbanisation, and global trade. If we don't address these root causes, we'll continue seeing more outbreaks. It's not a question of if, but when.

Science has a role beyond developing drugs or vaccines. It can demonstrate that the world can still work together constructively when politics struggles to do so. At a time when one major country has chosen to withdraw from global health efforts, scientific collaboration becomes even more vital.

We cannot wait for the next pandemic to develop the drugs that will address it. The critical element is what we build now: the research networks, the manufacturing capabilities, the regulatory pathways, the public trust, and the international partnerships that will determine our response when crisis hits. ♦

Is It Time for Senior Living?
We Help You Decide—FREE

♥ Schedule your FREE Senior Living Assessment Today

If you're starting to ask, "Is it time?" – that's the perfect time to talk

772-732-1223
www.TC-SeniorLiving.com

KACTUS

FLAVORS OF MEXICO

COME JOIN US FOR CINCO DE MAYO LIVE MUSIC AND DRINK SPECIALS!

$5 OFF ANY PURCHASE OF $25 OR MORE

Cannot be combined with any other offer. Must present coupon. Expires 5/31/26.

HOURS OF OPERATION

Sun. - Thurs. 11AM to 10PM | Fri. & Sat. 11AM to 11PM

DJ on Friday: 7PM - 10PM

HAPPY HOUR: 11AM - 7PM Every Day

LUNCH MENU: Monday - Friday 11AM - 3PM

6700 S US HWY 1 | PORT ST LUCIE FL 34952 | 772-464-7288

Eight Ways to Watch Your Sodium Intake

Source: BEYONDTYPE1.ORG

Learn why it's important to watch your sodium intake and discover 8 easy ways to do it.

For some time, it has been emphasized that healthy eating also includes moderating our sodium intake. In some countries, such as Mexico, in an attempt to help the population reduce their salt intake, campaigns were created targeting the general population. As a result, the Ministry of Health along with the Mexican food industry removed saltshakers from restaurant tables, joining a hypertension prevention campaign in 2013.

What is Salt? Is it the Same as Sodium?

Salt and sodium are used interchangeably, but there are some differences.

Sodium is a mineral that, when joined with other chemical components, forms substances that help preserve or enhance the flavor of food and is an ingredient in some foods, especially when they are processed foods, particularly if they contain preservatives. Sodium is a chemical element that must be handled with great caution since its improper handling can cause burns and injuries.

The term commonly used as “salt” refers, in a food and health context, to table salt. This is what we add to our food to give it some flavor and it can also be used as a preservative. Salt is a chemical compound formed or constructed by a molecule of sodium and a molecule of chloride. Being one of the most common combinations in food, it is a mixture that we need to be careful with, however, it is not the only source of sodium found in food. Sodium can be found as sodium erythorbate, sodium bicarbonate, among others.

Salt is not only used to season food but also as a preservative and stabilizer among other purposes.

If we have learned something when studying about food to take care of our health and body in general, it is that we need to balance nutrients, macro and micronutrients, and sodium are no exception. In fact, the human body needs sodium, in small amounts, to perform several important functions.

Sodium's Role in the Body

Sodium plays an essential role within the body as it helps to transmit nerve impulses through a mechanism called “sodium-potassium pump”, which is very necessary for muscle contractions which include heartbeats. It also plays a part in electrolyte balance as well as the absorption of nutrients.

Blood and other body fluids travel in the body transporting both nutrients and waste substances and this is when sodium becomes important since when sodium levels within the body rise, it stimulates some receptors and that is when we become thirsty and when sodium levels are low, its output through urine decreases. That is why, when we become dehydrated for any reason, we can feel cramps in the muscles, and to solve it is usually recommended to take electrolyte drinks that contain sodium chloride to recover that lost nutrient.

Why It's Important to Limit Sodium Intake

As we mentioned, consuming sodium in our diet is very important, but provided it is balanced with the features that our body requires. Many studies published to date have concluded and shown that reducing salt intake can result in decreased blood pressure levels.

In fact, according to the World Health Organization, the increasing consumption of foods that are richer in energy with saturated fats, fatty acids, trans fats, sugar and salt have been linked to an increase in cases of hypertension and therefore of heart disease and cerebrovascular accidents.

Consuming too much salt can also contribute to kidney problems, fluid retention and osteoporosis. This, as we will discuss later, does not mean that you simply have to remove the salt shaker from your table, but rather that you should take some special precautions regarding the “sodium content of the foods you eat” without forgetting that it is also important in our diet.

Recommended Sodium Intake Guidelines

The recommended amount of daily value for sodium is less than 2,300 mg per day.

continued next page

www.iCareTown.com

You can keep track of your sodium intake with calorie-counting apps such as the ones on this list, among others.

According to FDA data, it is recommended to check the %DV to know if a product has a low, moderate, or high amount of sodium to be able to select food. The FDA's specific guideline is that, if the Nutrition Facts label indicates 5 percent or less of the DV of sodium per serving, it is considered low; and 20 percent or more of the DV for sodium per serving is considered high.

Which Common Foods Are High in Sodium?

Remember, there are ways to incorporate different kinds of foods into a healthy eating pattern. With that said, it's always good to know which foods are high in sodium so you can decide how to include them in your balanced diet. Below is a list of common foods that are higher in sodium.

- Cheeses
- Cold cuts (ham, sausage, bacon)
- Meats
- Dressings
- Condiments
- Canned foods
- Baking powder
- Olives
- Baking soda
- Salty snacks (crackers, chips, nuts, peanuts)
- Canned or jarred soups, broths, or dry soup mixes
- Canned vegetables
- Seasoned salts (with onion, salt, garlic salt, in vinegar)
- Soy and teriyaki sauces

Which Foods are Naturally Low in Sodium?

Natural foods are always a good option for low sodium foods such as:

- Fresh fruits and vegetables
- Frozen fruits and vegetables without preservatives or any preservation process are also a good choice
- Oatmeal and some natural cereals that are not processed
- Fresh cheeses contain less sodium than preserved or hard cheeses

Eight Ways to Lower Your Sodium Intake

While salt adds flavor to a dish, it's not the only way to make sure your food doesn't taste bland. Here are some tips to reduce your sodium intake.

- Use Aromatics to Add Flavor: Try or choose not to add salt to your food, there are other ways to flavor it. Onions are commonly used to add flavor or seasoning to different foods and dishes. Garlic can also be used. Consider that some preparations or spices (or condiments) have salt in their ingredients, so we suggest you use salt and natural garlic. You can also find no-salt seasonings in grocery stores.
- Cook with Fresh or Dried Herbs: You can season your food with some herbs that work very well, such as

see "SODIUM" next page

There's No Place Like Home! Private Duty Home Care Services

Proudly Covering Palm Beach County, Martin County, St. Lucie County & Indian River County

Your loved ones can live better lives with our care.

- Housekeeping
- Meal Assistance
- Respite Care
- Specialized Care
- Care Management
- Case Management
- Placement Services
- Personal Care

Elder Home Care Services

Help is just a phone call away

1-800-215-7166

elderhcservices.com

License # NR30211847

SENIOR SOLUTIONS
INSURANCE AGENCY

Local, Family Owned & Operated
3 Generations of Insurance

SPECIALIZING IN MEDICARE

Certified Social Security Advisor & IRMMA Serving the Florida Retirement System (DROP)

JOHN CLARK, CLTC, CMIP

MAIN OFFICE: 540 UNIVERSITY BLVD. #108
PORT ST LUCIE, FL 34986

3228 SW MARTIN DOWNS BLVD. #1
PALM CITY, FL 34990 (BY APPOINTMENT)
CALL US TODAY AT 561-818-2506

We do not offer every plan available in your area. Any information we provide is limited to those plans we do offer in your area. Please contact Medicare.gov or 1-800-MEDICARE (TTY Users should call 1-877-486-2048) 24 hours a day/7 days a week to get information on all of your options.

seniorsolutionsinsuranceagency.com oregano, thyme, coriander and parsley. Now, if you like strong flavors, you can also use some type of chili pepper. Remember, choose the natural version as they will have more sodium if they are canned.

- Use Other Flavor-Boosters such as lemons and vinegars.
- DIY and Learn how to make sauces, dressings and snacks. Cooking at home, in general, allows you to have more control over the amount of salt in your food.
- Choose Lower-Sodium Options such as low or no-sodium broths, sauces and jarred/canned items.
- Wash the Contents of Your Cans: canned foods contain salt as a preservative. In case it is impossible not to use them, wash them thoroughly to remove some of the excesses.
- Choose Fresh Vegetables instead of packaged, some are processed and contain sodium.
- Avoid processed or packaged foods.

Often, when it comes to sodium, you have an image of all the negative effects it has on our body, however, it is an indispensable compound in the functioning of our body and a deficiency can have negative effects on our health.

Sodium, like many minerals, cannot be classified as good or bad, but they are necessary so that, in the appropriate amounts, you achieve the balance that your body needs to maintain good health. ♦

PALMS AT ST. LUCIE WEST

SENIOR LIVING

INDEPENDENT, ASSISTED & MEMORY CARE

Palms at St. Lucie West is truly a close knit, family-friendly community. Come and check out the various programs we offer to our Residents. Our strengths are not just in numbers, but in our people - our staff, residents, and families that make Palms at St. Lucie West an exceptional place to live.

Around the Clock Caring Staff, Full-Time Licensed Nurse, Beauty Salon

Rehabilitation Services Available On-Site

Fine Dining to Include Three Nutritious Meals per Day, Plus Snacks

All Utilities and Basic Cable

Active Social, Recreational and Educational Programs

Scheduled Local Transportation Available

Weekly Housekeeping and Personal Laundry Included

Marisol's Photography Inc.

CELL: (321) 258-2937
marisolic69@yahoo.com
WEBSITE:
marisols.smugmug.com

* EVENT * FAMILY * ENGAGEMENT * WEDDING * BIRTHDAY * PRODUCT

SINCERI
Senior Living

501 NW Cashmere Blvd.
Port St. Lucie West 34986

772-344-7441

sinceriseniorliving.com/
palms-at-st-lucie-west

License #AL10438

MAY 2026 CROSSWORD

Across

1. Butterfly's kin
5. Carbonated beverages
10. Whiten
14. Sailor's call
15. ___ setter
16. Like some tea
17. See socially
18. Honoring
20. Sports site
22. Psychic
23. Hair coloring
24. Military award
25. Beatle John ___
27. Laundry problem
29. Green sauce
33. ___ Cruces
36. Vocalist ___ Franklin
39. Candid
40. Headache pill
42. Trap
44. Have on
45. Concur
47. Kitchen and parlor (abbr.)
48. Twangy
50. Thoughts
52. Wanderers
55. More unusual
59. Kwanzaa's mo.
62. Brisk wind
63. Not here
64. Thrifty
68. Teen skin problem
69. Historic canal
70. Ease up
71. Commando attack
72. Army mascot
73. Fathered
74. Mimics

Down

- | | | |
|-----------------------|----------------------|------------------------|
| 1. Lady's title | 21. Church feature | 46. Motorcycle adjunct |
| 2. Midwest airport | 25. Mortgages | 49. Advertising symbol |
| 3. Lugged | 26. Inert gas | 51. African desert |
| 4. Doglike scavengers | 28. Diva's specialty | 53. Mothers |
| 5. Respectful title | 30. Ship's pole | 54. Excuse |
| 6. Native mineral | 31. Duration | 56. Brief review |
| 7. Disagreement | 32. Small bills | 57. Bert's buddy |
| 8. Poplar type | 33. Yard covering | 58. Marsh grasses |
| 9. Actor Martin ___ | 34. Yachting | 59. Consider |
| 10. Healthy | 35. Mineral springs | 60. Unbleached color |
| 11. Sour | 37. Listens | 61. Bedspring |
| 12. Refute | 38. Actress ___ | 65. Born |
| 13. Brim | Bancroft | 66. Dined |
| 19. Riding whip | 41. Mideast country | 67. Was first |
| | 43. Begin | |

onlinecrosswords.net/solution-61241.png

Mother's Day cont.

HIM, EVERYTHING WILL COLLAPSE. NOTHING IN THE UNIVERSE WILL EXIST!

"He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn over all creation. For by Him all things were created that are in heaven and that are on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or principalities or powers. All things were created through Him and for Him. And He is before all things, and in Him all things consist." Colossians 1:15-17

NO WONDER JESUS SAID: HEAVEN AND EARTH WILL PASS AWAY, NOT MY WORD. (Paraphrasing.) HIS WORD IS THE ELEMENT THAT KEEPS THE UNIVERSE MOVING ORDERLY WITHOUT COLLAPSING.

OF COURSE, THE IMPLICATION IS THAT BY BUILDING OUR LIVES WITH OTHER STUFF IS WHAT KEEPS OUR LIVES COLLAPSING, AND WE ARE THE AUTHORS OF IT. SO LET'S TAKE RESPONSIBILITY, BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE. PLEASE BELIEVE ME, YOU DON'T WANT TO EXIST ETERNALLY DOWN THERE. THAT PLACE WAS NOT CREATED FOR YOU.

Please don't misunderstand me, I am not again doctors and medicine, they are a temporary need. Use them and keep on learning and moving to higher grounds where you belong.

see "MOTHER'S DAY" on page 38

FOR ALL YOUR PHARMACY NEEDS!

Great Service • Low Prices

A Pharmacy that delivers more than medication!

Personalized customer service
We accept most major insurance plans
We offer price transparency – No hidden agenda, just honest pricing
Our Friendly staff and Pharmacist is always available to speak with you Prescription review – We KNOW your medication history so we KNOW if there are any possible conflicts between medications
Always FREE delivery right to your door

Got a question for the Pharmacists, stop by for a FREE consultation.

FREE

Penicillin, Keflex, Cipro, Bactrim DS, Ampicillin, Amoxicillin
Glipizide & Metformin
Lisinopril
Medication Unit Dose Packaging
Prescription Medications
Prescription and Refill Reminder Alerts

Shop & Save with your Healthmart Pharmacy

Specialized Unit Dose Packing for Group Homes, ALFS and Seniors at Their Request with NO Additional Cost.

FREE BUBBLE BLISTER CARD PACKAGING

772-800-7267

8972 S. Federal Hwy (US 1)
Port St. Lucie, FL 34952

www.eastportpharmacy.com

7 Ways Older Adults Can Manage Their Mental Health

Source: NCOA.ORG

As we age, we encounter new challenges—such as retirement, the loss of loved ones, or physical limitations—that can impact our emotional and psychological health. But with these challenges come opportunities for growth, resilience, and new ways to find joy and purpose.

Maintaining mental health as an older adult isn't just about addressing problems; it's about thriving. When we're proactive in caring for our mental well-being, we can help ensure our later years are as vibrant as possible.

How can I protect and improve my mental health? Below are seven tips that can help you make your mental health a priority:

1. Seek treatment if you need it: Up to 25% percent of adults age 65 and older are living with a mental health condition such as anxiety or depression.¹ If you're experiencing lasting feelings of sadness, hopelessness, or anxiety, talk to your health care provider. They can connect you with a counselor, therapist, or psychiatrist who will evaluate your symptoms and provide a proper diagnosis and treatment. Many providers now offer telemedicine—video or phone chat—which is a convenient and safe alternative to an in-person appointment.

2. Limit your media consumption: In today's digital world, staying informed is easier than ever, with news updates available at our fingertips 24/7. However, the constant barrage of negative news can lead to increased anxiety, stress, and feelings of helplessness. According to a survey of therapists by Grow Therapy, 99.6% said that watching or reading the news can negatively affect mental health. While being aware of current events is important, it's vital to recognize how it affects your mood. If you're noticing you feel more anxious after watching or reading the news—or if your sleep or appetite are affected—it's a good idea to set limits. For example, give yourself 10 minutes to skim the news in the morning when you wake up, and do not check it again until the next day.

3. Engage in healthy activities: In general, the advice we've heard throughout the years still holds true:

- Get seven to nine hours of sleep each night.
- Eat a healthy, well-balanced diet.
- Do not use tobacco or vaping (e-cigarette) products.
- Consume no more than one alcoholic drink per day (or none at all, per your doctor's instructions).

continued next page

- Exercise your body and mind. Meditation, walking, gardening, and group exercise classes are all beneficial to your mental health.

4. Take your medications on time, every day: Whether you take prescription medications for a mental health condition or a chronic health condition, be sure to use all your medications as directed by your health care providers. Go to NCOA's BenefitsCheckUp.org if you need assistance paying for your prescription medications.

5. Stick to regular routines: Humans naturally crave routines, since they give our days a sense of structure and predictability. As much as possible, stick to a routine for working, exercising, caring for grandchildren, cleaning, and other daily activities. Feeling bored? Change it up by adding a fun new hobby or fitness workout to your daily regimen.

6. Stay socially connected: Having people to spend time with and talk to about our needs and feelings is vital for our mental health. If you don't have close friends or family members nearby, try branching out. Visit your local senior center, volunteer in your community, or see what adult education classes are available in your area. If you're religious, places of faith are great places to meet like-minded people and find opportunities for group activities.

7. Try to be positive and relish the simple things in life. Practicing gratitude can transform our perspective and lift our spirits. By consciously focusing on the positive aspects of our lives, we shift our attention away from what we lack and toward what we have. This helps us find more joy in everyday moments and feel more fulfilled.

Where can I find mental health support as an older adult?

Whether it's for you or someone you care about, you can find additional mental health information and support through the resources below.

National Alliance for Mental Illness (NAMI)

Contact your local NAMI Affiliate to find out what types of programs and supports they offer.

Suicide & Crisis Lifeline

Dial 988 (phone or text) to reach the Suicide & Crisis Lifeline. This service is free, confidential, and available to everyone in the U.S. 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Suicide & Crisis Lifeline

Dial 988 (phone or text) to reach the Suicide & Crisis Lifeline. This service is free, confidential, and available to everyone in the U.S. 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Disaster Distress Helpline

Call 1-800-985-5990 or text TalkWithUs to 66746 to reach the Disaster Distress Helpline (DDH). Run by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), this is a toll-free, 24/7, multilingual, and confidential crisis support service, available to all U.S. and U.S. territory residents. ♦

Come Home

TO HARBOR PLACE AT PORT SAINT LUCIE

CAREFREE INDEPENDENT LIVING
QUALITY ASSISTED LIVING

- Excellent Amenities & Activities
 - Restaurant-Style Dining
 - Maintenance & Housekeeping
 - Continuum-of-Care Campus

Small pets welcome!

HARBOR PLACE
AT PORT ST. LUCIE

A CENTURY PARK COMMUNITY

772.337.4330

3700 Southeast Jennings Rd. • Port Saint Lucie, FL
PtStLucieHarborPlace.com

Age Matters in Home Equity Decisions

Why the right home equity strategy changes in retirement — and why reverse mortgages deserve a closer look

Source: HOUSINGWIRE.COM

A borrower's age should shape every financing recommendation, yet it is often treated as a secondary detail when a senior wants, or needs, access to a portion of their equity.

Consider that most mortgage advice is built on the assumptions that the borrower will continue working and has time and resources to recover from financial setbacks. Those assumptions break the moment someone retires. And if the assumptions change, the strategy should too.

For example:

- At age 45, risk is manageable, income is active, time is an asset, and debt can be used strategically.
- At age 70, the equation shifts. Income is often fixed, expenses become less predictable, time is limited, and financial setbacks carry more weight because there is less opportunity to recover.

That shift should change the goal of home equity lending. At older ages, it is no longer about maximizing leverage or optimizing interest rates. Rather it is about protecting cash flow, preserving flexibility, and reducing financial pressure. When financing recommendations fail to recognize this reality, loan products can do more harm than good.

Unfortunately, homeowners tend to gravitate to what they know, like HELOCs and cash-out refinances. Maybe they are enticed by newer options like Home Equity Investments that only appear simple and safe.

The HELOC trap

On the surface, a Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC) appears flexible. It allows borrowers to access funds as needed rather than taking everything upfront. But it comes with a built-in problem for retirees: required payments. Even during an interest-only period, there is still a monthly obligation, and that obligation can rise if rates increase. Eventually, the loan converts to full repayment, which can create significant payment shock.

HELOCs are also not fully under the borrower's control. Lenders can freeze, reduce, or cancel the line. This has happened in past market downturns, often at the exact moment borrowers need funding the most.

The refinancing game

Refinancing presents a different challenge. It feels straightforward and familiar because many senior homeowners have done it... many times. But a cash-out refinance creates a new mortgage with required monthly principal and interest payments. It resets the loan term and assumes stable, ongoing income.

see "EQUITY" on page 34

risky health cont.

three long-term was even more strongly linked to overall poor health.

Some key findings:

- Having all three behaviors long-term was associated with a 0.38-point increase in depressive symptoms; 1.49-point increase in metabolic risk; 0.14-point decline in psychological well-being; and 0.45 drop in self-rated health.
- Heavy drinking alone was linked to increases of 0.21 points in depressive symptoms and 1.03 points in metabolic risk, and a 0.62 decline in self-rated health.
- Smoking was associated with a 0.15 increase in depressive symptoms and a decrease of 0.08 in self-rated health.
- A lack of physical activity led to a 0.89 increase in metabolic risk scores and 0.31-point decrease in self-rated health.

“Risky health behaviors had partly different associations: Smoking was mainly associated with [poorer] mental well-being, while physical inactivity was linked to poorer physical health,” Kekäläinen says. Heavy drinking was associated with declines in both mental and physical health.

Tobacco, Alcohol, and Inactivity Are All Risky

Smoking is the leading cause of premature death in the United States, and it can harm every organ in the body. This can contribute to a number of health problems, including lung cancer and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD).

Heavy drinking has been connected to cancer, among other issues. A Surgeon General’s Advisory report suggested that every year, nearly 100,000 cancer cases and 20,000 cancer-related deaths are linked to alcohol.

Not exercising regularly and generally being sedentary can contribute to many different chronic conditions, including obesity and metabolic diseases. Physical inactivity, smoking, and drinking too much alcohol are also all linked to high blood pressure, heart disease, stroke, type 2 diabetes, and a weaker immune system.

The Study Has Some Limitations

The research was limited to people born in Finland in 1959. Data was compiled from the Jyväskylä Longitudinal Study of Personality and Social Development, which began in 1968 with an initial sample of 173 girls and 196 boys.

The study was limited to just three behaviors: smoking, alcohol consumption, and physical activity. The researchers noted that future studies should factor in sleep, nutrition, and other behaviors to consider health more broadly.

Another limitation is that the health behaviors and outcomes were self-reported, which increases the risk of memory-related inaccuracies and social biases. The study authors also noted that “only a crude estimate” of risky behaviors was used, with each habit rated equally rather than being weighted.

The results are likely to apply to people born in Finland and other Western countries in the late 1950s and ’60s, the researchers noted, but may not be relevant to younger generations or people from other parts of the world due to changes in culture and society.

How to Take Steps to Improve Your Lifestyle

Whatever your age, Govindaraju recommends talking to a healthcare provider for help in improving your habits before they contribute to long-term issues.

“Your doctor will be able to help guide you, motivate you, and follow up with you to make sure you are hitting your goals,” Govindaraju says. “It is also important to notify your family and friends when you are attempting to quit smoking or drinking, so you have a support network for anything you may face physically and mentally.”

There are other ways to get help:

- To Stop Smoking Contact the American Lung Association Lung HelpLine at 800-LUNGUSA.
- To Stop or Cut Back on Drinking Alcohol use disorder is a treatable mental illness. For help reach out the National Alliance on Mental Illness’s HelpLine at 800-590-NAMI (6264) or text NAMI at 62640.
- To Become More Physically Active Enlist the help of a friend, using an app, or working with a trainer to help you stay accountable, and setting small goals that are achievable.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends adults get at least 150 minutes of moderate-intensity physical activity every week, or at least 75 minutes of vigorous-intensity activity, or a combination. Strength training is also suggested at least two days a week.

You may start seeing positive changes in how you feel within just a few weeks of quitting smoking, drinking less, and getting more exercise.

Pairing tobacco or nicotine cessation and alcohol moderation or cessation with at least 150 minutes per week of moderate-intensity aerobic activity and strength training leads to drastically improved long-term cardiovascular health. That can translate to lower risks of serious events like stroke and heart attack. ♦

How Do You Know the House You're Looking for Is Right for You?

By: LUKE LEWIS | OWNER, TREASURE COAST REALTY GROUP

I get asked this question more than almost any other. Not “what’s the price?” or “how are the schools?” — though those matter too. The question that sits quietly behind every showing, every walk-through, and every hesitation at the closing table is this one: how do I know?

After several years helping people find homes on the Treasure Coast, I’ve come to believe that the answer is rarely found in a spreadsheet. But it isn’t purely instinct either. It lives somewhere between the two — and knowing how to read that space is what separates a good decision from a great one.

The Treasure Coast Changes the Question

First, let’s talk about where you are. Fort Pierce and the surrounding Treasure Coast are not like other Florida markets. This isn’t a place people move to for a postcard. They move here because something about it settles into them — the pace, the waterfront, the authenticity of a city that hasn’t been polished into something generic. I’ve watched people arrive from Miami, Fort Lauderdale, Orlando, and Tampa, and almost without exception, the ones who feel it immediately are the ones who stay.

That feeling matters. It’s data. When a buyer walks into a home in Fort Pierce’s historic district and goes quiet, or stands on a back porch in a Waterstone home and exhales for the first time in the whole tour — I pay attention to that. The body knows things the budget hasn’t caught up to yet.

What the Right House Actually Feels Like

There are signals I’ve learned to recognize over the years. The right house is the one where a buyer stops narrating and starts imagining. They stop saying “this could work” and start saying “my couch would go here.” They linger in rooms they don’t need to linger in. They ask about the neighbors.

On the Treasure Coast, placement plays a specific role in this. Proximity to the water, to Indian River Lagoon, to the inlet — these aren’t luxury preferences for most of my buyers. They are lifestyle requirements. When a home puts you near what you love, that proximity changes how you inhabit the space. A house two blocks from Jetty Park is not the same house three miles inland, even if the square footage is identical. Where you are is part of what you are buying.

The Checklist Is a Floor, Not a Ceiling

I always encourage buyers to come in with a list. Bedrooms, bathrooms, garage, school district, commute distance — these are the floor. They tell us what we can eliminate. But the house that is right for you will almost always have something on that list that surprises you: a feature you didn’t know you needed, or a compromise that turns out not to matter once you’re standing in the space.

I’ve had buyers insist they needed a four-bedroom home and fall completely in love with a three-bedroom that had a flex space they immediately claimed as a studio. I’ve had buyers who were certain they wanted new construction discover a 1920s bungalow in a historic neighborhood with original hardwood floors and decide that character was worth more than countertops. The list gets you to the door. The house gets you the rest of the way.

Trust the Pause

Here is the most practical piece of advice I can offer: trust the pause. When a buyer walks out of a house and goes quiet — not because they’re disappointed, but because they’re processing — that pause is worth examining. I always ask what they’re thinking in that moment. The answer is usually the most honest thing I hear all day.

The wrong house produces noise — objections, justifications, rationalizations. The right house produces something closer to recognition. It doesn’t always feel like certainty right away. Sometimes it feels like relief. Like you’ve been looking for something and you’ve finally stopped looking.

This Community Will Tell You Too

One last thing — and this is specific to Fort Pierce and the Treasure Coast. This community has a way of confirming a good decision. The neighbors who wave. The Saturday morning farmers market on the waterfront. The sense that you’ve landed somewhere with a genuine identity rather than a manufactured one. When buyers find the right house here, the neighborhood tends to seal it. The house and the place work together in a way that’s hard to manufacture and impossible to fake.

So how do you know? You know when the house stops feeling like a decision and starts feeling like a destination. My job is to get you to that moment — and to make sure that when it happens, you’re standing in exactly the right place. ♦

Luke Lewis is the owner of Treasure Coast Realty Group and a licensed real estate broker and 22-year Treasure Coast resident. He holds the record for the highest residential sale in Fort Pierce at $6.9 million and has brokered landmark commercial and development transactions across the region.

equity cont.

That assumption does not always hold in retirement. Instead of reducing financial pressure, a refinance often increases it by introducing a fixed obligation at the wrong stage of life. It also forces the borrower to take a lump sum, which means interest begins accruing on the full amount, whether the funds are needed or not. What worked during earning years can become a burden during retirement.

What about home equity investments?

Home Equity Investments (HEI) or Home Equity Agreements (HEA) are gaining attention because of how they are marketed. No loan! No interest! No payments! The message is simple, and simplicity is appealing.

But the structure tells a different story. These agreements require the homeowner to give up a significant portion of the home's future value in exchange for cash today.

The cost is tied, in part, to home appreciation. This can cause the repayment amount to grow significantly. In many cases, the homeowner ends up giving up far more than they anticipated. Because the cost is not labeled as interest, it is ambiguous and easy to underestimate. But from a financial perspective, the outcome often resembles a very expensive form of borrowing.

If a borrower receives funds and later owes much more because of how the agreement is structured, the label does not matter. The outcome does. When the cost is difficult to understand, easy to overlook, and overwhelmingly favors the provider, the product deserves serious scrutiny. In many cases, the math appears predatory.

The reverse mortgage is age-appropriate

When you step back and evaluate the previous options through the lens of age, their limitations become clear. Most mortgage products are designed for borrowers in their working years and then adapted, often poorly, for retirement.

The reverse mortgage stands apart because it was specifically built for this stage of life. At its core, it removes the requirement for monthly principal and interest payments. The borrower must simply occupy and maintain the home and pay all property charges. This directly addresses one of the biggest challenges in retirement: managing cash flow with limited income.

It also offers a line of credit that behaves very differently from a HELOC. It cannot be frozen or reduced due to market conditions so long as the loan is in good standing. Even more important, it grows over time, increasing the amount of funds available in the future. This turns home equity into an expanding financial resource rather than a static one.

When financing is evaluated through the lens of age, the reverse mortgage shines bright. The best solution is not the one that feels familiar. Rather it is the one that fits the needs and desires of the borrower at their stage of life. ♦

Air Conditioning Commercial Refrigeration Heating

Financing & Rebates Available.
Limited Time Only!

We Will BEAT
Any Written Estimate

We Service & Install All Makes & Models

State Licensed Contractor & Insured CAC1816459

$59⁹⁵

A/C Seasonal 21 pt Check
Call For Details by Appointment

FREE

Service Call with Repair

FREE

ESTIMATES
On New Systems or 2nd Opinions

Residential Commercial

AirSource1LLC.com

772 626-7604

FIRST COMES LOVE, THEN COMES... A PRENUP?

By: ARANTXA DIAZ KRAUSS,
FAMILY LAW ATTORNEY

Marriage is one of the most meaningful commitments you'll ever make. You've met your person, had the engagement of your dreams, and now you're getting ready to plan every detail of your big day, from the venue to the flowers to the guest list. It's an exciting time! But before you start planning, should you talk to a family lawyer?

For many people, the idea of discussing a prenuptial agreement during such a happy time is uncomfortable and awkward. It's not exactly the most romantic topic, and it can feel out of place when everything is centered around celebration and love. However, having this conversation early on can actually be one of the most practical and thoughtful steps you take as a couple. It's not about expecting the worst, it's about being clear, transparent, and prepared.

What Is a Prenup?

A prenuptial agreement, often called a "prenup," is a legally binding contract between two people who wish to get married. It allows both parties to decide in advance how their assets and financial responsibilities will be handled if the marriage were ever to end.

There's a common misconception that prenuptial agreements are only for the wealthy or for people with significant assets. In reality, that's not the case at all. Many couples choose to enter into prenuptial agreements simply to create clarity and avoid confusion down the road. It's about understanding each other's financial situations and making joint decisions about finances ahead of time, rather than leaving those decisions up to the courts later.

When done properly, a prenuptial agreement can offer a number of benefits. It can help protect assets you already have, outline how future assets will be handled, and limit your exposure to your partner's debts or financial obligations. It can also save both parties significant time, stress, and money in the event of a divorce by reducing the need for a lengthy lawsuit.

Perhaps most importantly, it gives both individuals a sense of control and peace of mind when it comes to their financial future.

So, what makes a prenuptial agreement valid in Florida?

First and foremost, it must be in writing. Both parties must enter into the agreement voluntarily, without pressure, coercion, or duress. The terms should be openly discussed and agreed upon by both people. Additionally, full and frank financial disclosures are key. Meaning, each person should have a clear understanding of the other's assets and liabilities before signing. Moreover, the agreement should be prepared and signed with sufficient time to allow the parties to fully and thoroughly discuss, understand, and negotiate the terms. Although there is no "bright line" rule for when the agreement has to be executed, it should be done at least several weeks prior to the wedding date.

Further, while it is not legally required for each party to have their own attorney, it is highly recommended. Having independent legal counsel helps ensure that both parties fully understand the agreement and that it will hold up if ever challenged in court.

What should be in a prenup?

As for what a prenuptial agreement can cover, the scope is fairly broad. It can address how property is owned and divided, as well as matters involving businesses, investments, retirement accounts, life insurance policies, cryptocurrency, and other assets. It can also include provisions about alimony (called "spousal support" in some states), specifically, whether it will be paid, limited, or eliminated altogether. Additionally, couples can outline what should happen to their assets if one spouse or both spouses pass away during the marriage. Some agreements may also tie into broader estate planning, such as the creation of a will or trust.

That said, there are limits. A prenuptial agreement cannot address issues related to child custody or child support. Those matters are determined based on the best interests of the child at the time they arise, not in advance. It's also important that the agreement complies with Florida law and does not conflict with established legal principles.

continued next page

In short, a prenuptial agreement isn't about planning for failure, it's about communication, transparency, and setting expectations. It can actually strengthen a relationship by encouraging honest conversations about finances and future goals. While it may not be the most romantic part of wedding planning, it can be one of the smartest.

The smartest love stories are also the most honest ones. If you're ready to talk about money, the future, and protecting both of you — I'll meet you there with expertise and without judgment.

Arantxa Diaz Krauss | Hardwick & Krauss | Family Law | Port Saint Lucie, FL Schedule your consultation. Because clarity is romantic.

Arantxa Diaz Krauss - Bio

Originally from Lima, Peru, Arantxa Diaz Krauss has been a resident of Port Saint Lucie since 2006. She earned her Juris Doctorate from Nova Southeastern Shepard Broad College of Law and is an experienced litigator, having practiced in the areas of family law, injunctions, debt collections, creditors' rights, evictions, and contract law. As a partner at Hardwick & Krauss, Arantxa works alongside Attorney Sean M. Hardwick, focusing on family law and providing clients with both strong advocacy and compassionate, personalized representation. ♦

You can locate their office at 1922 SE Port St. Lucie Blvd., Port Saint Lucie, FL 34952, or learn more by visiting their website at www.Hardwickkrauss.com.
Hablo Espanol

HAVE YOU BEEN INJURED?

CALL TODAY FOR A
FREE CONSULTATION
855.534.2509

NO FEES OR COSTS UNLESS WE WIN

SHOLTÉS LAW, PLLC

Treasure Coast Personal Injury Lawyer

VISIT OUR OFFICES IN

STUART
OKEECHOBEE
FORT PIERCE

SAINTLUCIELAWYER.COM

faith into fitness cont.

A Journey Worth Taking — Body, Mind, and Soul

Incorporating faith into fitness can transform the way people view their health and well-being. By setting intentions rooted in spirituality, engaging in mindful practices, fostering community, practicing gratitude, serving others, and reflecting spiritual principles, fitness becomes more than just a physical pursuit — it evolves into a holistic journey that enhances both body and soul. Whether through personal prayer, group activities, or acts of service, integrating faith into fitness can lead to profound growth and fulfillment for those willing to embrace this path. I for one am very glad that I have incorporated my faith into my fitness journey.

“My fitness journey didn’t begin in a gym — it began in service.”

After enlisting in the United States Marine Corps straight out of high school and completing a tour in Afghanistan, I was medically discharged. That experience became the catalyst for everything. It pushed me to understand how to rebuild functional strength from the inside out, which ultimately led me to becoming a personal trainer. I got certified through ISSA, started at LA Fitness, transitioned to a private training studio, and eventually owned my own — logging over 20 years in this industry along the way.

After taking a step back, I finally answered what I believe God was calling me to all along — returning to my true passion of helping people transform through fitness. That’s what brought me to Transform PT in Port St. Lucie, where I get to do exactly that every day. For me, this work has never been just about physical results. It’s about stewardship, purpose, and walking alongside people on a journey that strengthens not just the body, but the whole person. ♦

Mother’s Day cont.

MEDITATE ON THIS,
HIS LIGHT WILL SHINE
IN YOUR HEART AND DARKNESS WILL VANISH AWAY! “In the beginning was the Word,
and the Word was with God,
and the Word was God.

He was in the beginning with God. All things were made through Him, and without Him nothing was made that was made. In Him was life, and the life was the light of men. And the light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not comprehend (OVERCOME) it...

“He came to His own, and His own did not receive Him. But as many as received Him, to them He gave the right to become children of God, to those who believe in His name: who were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.” John 1:1-13

RECEIVE JESUS AND BECOME THE LIGHT OF THIS WORLD TODAY. Open your mouth and your heart at the same time and tell Him: Lord, I do believe that Jesus of Nazareth took my place in the Cross. Lord, I am sorry for all my sins against you and against my own life, please forgive me. I believe Jesus was raised on the third day for my justification. Jesus, I receive you as my Lord, my Savior, and my healer, and my deliverer.
Your Holy blood cleanses me right now and God gives me a new heart, and eternal life, a clean soul, and healthy body. Now my name is written in the book of life, guaranteed by the following written law:

“That if you confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God has raised Him from the dead, you will be saved. For with the heart, one believes unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.” Romans 10:9-10 ♦

If you made this prayer, email me: icarepublications@gmail.com

The fresh Gospel of Jesus Christ, in word and music, broadcasting all day and all night . . .

*Lives changed . . . souls saved!
Hallelujah!!!*

wcno.com

772-221-1100

888-221-8990

MAVIT
STONE SERVICES LLC
 GRANITE, CABINETS, FLOORING & MORE

Over 800 Slabs to Choose From
On-Site! FREE ESTIMATES!

Exotic Countertops, Custom Cabinetry and Outdoor Kitchens

facebook.com/mavitstone

mavitstone

$500 OFF

With $5,000 or more. With this iCare coupon. Exp. 5/31/26

Mavit Stone Services has Partnered with the Best!

FULL KITCHEN AND BATHROOM REMODELS

1622 SW Biltmore Street • Port St. Lucie, FL
10842 SW Tradition Parkway • Tradition, FL 34987
Call 772.879.5234 or visit us online at mavitstone.com

iCare Community Magazine
P.O. BOX 881718
Port St. Lucie, FL 34988

PRSRT STD
U S POSTAGE PAID
WEST PALM BEACH FL
PERMIT #1716

Center for Preventative Health Care

A Holistic Wellness Center

Let's Talk Nutrition

NANCY LEONARD
RN,CCN,LNC,CH,CHt

PERSONAL HEALTH ASSESSMENT: $179

10034 S Highway 1 | Port St. Lucie, FL 34952

Office: 772.334.0101 | Fax: 772.209.7678

web: center4healthcare.com e-mail: centerforpreventativehealthcare@yahoo.com

ECRWSEDDM
LOCAL POSTAL CUSTOMER

DON'T WOOF IT UP! MY DAD CAN SAVE YOU MONEY ON MEDICARE AND HEALTH INSURANCE!

Call Owen Insurance now to schedule a FREE consultation and learn more about your Medicare coverage options.

38 years on the Treasure Coast

FL LIC# L100600

FT PIERCE:

2500 Virginia Ave | Ft. Pierce, FL 34981

772.242.4200

STUART:

1611 NW Federal Hwy | Stuart, FL 34994

772.210.1020

oweninsurancegroup.com

We may not offer every plan available in your area. Any information we provide is limited to those plans we do offer in your area. Please contact Medicare.gov or 1-800-MEDICARE to get information on all your options.